

Міжнародна нагорода RHINO poetry translation prize, 2022:

Translation Prize

The Editors of RHINO Poetry may choose to award a prize for a translated poem which had the greatest impact on us for that reading period. There is no application process, all submitted translations are considered. Winners will be acknowledged in that year's journal and on our website, and with a $50 cash award. Read more about our translation initiative, and submissions here.

Upon Publication: Accepted poets will receive one copy of the issue featuring their poem, and the opportunity to purchase additional copies at a discount ($7 + shipping). Accepted poems will be published on the RHINO website at least one year after print publication.

2022 The Water Drops by Dmitri Blizniuk translated from the Russian by Sergey Gerasimov

2021 Cotton by Maya Tevet Dayan translated from the Hebrew by Jane Medved

2020 LINES by Shuzo Takiguchi translated from the Japanese by Mary Jo Bang and Yuki Tanaka

2018 Hat by Dejan Aleksić translated from the Serbian by Charles Simic

2017 Picking Up Baggage by Milorad Pejić translated from the Bosnian by the late Omer Hadžiselimović

2016 The Seafarer by Anonymous translated from the Anglo-Saxon by Bill Christophersen

2015 Devil & Freedom by Olja Savičević Ivančević translated from the Croatian by Andrea Jurjević

2015 Cause by Farouk Goweda translated from Arabic by Walid Abdallah and Andy Fogle

Подробнее: <https://rhinopoetry.org/poems/the-water-drops-dmitry-blizniuk-translated-russian-sergey-gerasimov-ss82a>